ON FEBRUARY 23RD, 2012

THIS week saw the finishing touches being made to the long-awaited restoration of the Ugadale Hotel.

The Courier was given an exclusive tour of the new hotel, exactly 114 years since it was received extensive damage from a fire.

Restored back to its former glory, Southworth Development LLC has been working hard over the last year to get the hotel restored and back open for people to enjoy once again.

On Saturday, February 25 2012, invited guests will celebrate the official re-opening of the hotel and Kintyre Club with a reception.

On Sunday, members of the general public are invited along to look around the hotel for themselves from noon to 3pm.
